Vidushi A. Kanyakumari

Padma Shri, Vidushi A. Kanyakumari is India's leading violinist in the carnatic style of music. She has been in the field for over four decades, successfully playing the various roles of soloist, accompanist, teacher, innovator and organizer, dedicating her life to music. She considers herself fortunate to be a disciple of three legendary gurus: Sri. Ivaturi Vijeswara Rao garu, Guru Sri. M. Chandrasekaran and Guru Smt. M.L.Vasanthakumari.

Her extensive experience along with sharp acumen and fine sense of creativity has earned herself a distinct place in the world of music. Music artiste Sri. P.V. Subramaiam known as 'Subbudu' compared her music to the ever glittering diamond stud in the nose ring of goddess Kanyakumari. She has released numerous albums and leads many violin ensembles including her innovative 'Vadyalahari' concert and pioneering 'Thristhai sangamam' concept, bringing a new sonic texture to carnatic music. She has composed numerous thillanas, keerthanas and instrumental pieces. As a homage to Lord Venkateswara, she has created seven ragas, 'Saptagiri' bearing the names of the seven hills of Thirumala and tuned seven Annamacharya Kirtanas to these seven ragas, presenting Saptagiri as 'Raga Nada Neerajanam'.

Many prestigious awards and titles have been bestowed upon her. Some of her notable accolades include Thirumala Thirupathi Aasthaana Vidushi, Kalaimamani from Government of Tamilnadu, Sangeetha Kalanidhi from Madras Music Academy, Padma Shri from Government of India and Sangeetha Natak Academy Award. She is conferred with the title "Sasvatanadavidushi" (One who is adept in music that is divine) from TSNPAC, NJ

He was also conferred an honorary degree by Brookdale College, NJ. Recognized for his achievements, Guru Nandakumar received commendations from the Honorable Governor of New Jersey, Mr. Phil Murphy. Furthermore, he was awarded proclamations by the Mayors of Plainfield and Bridgewater for his contributions to the arts in their respective communities.

Sri. Rajeev Mukundan(Violin)

Rajeev Mukundan is a dynamic and acclaimed Carnatic violinist, whose mellifluous playing and keen sense of aesthetics and musical understanding makes him a much sought-after accompanist in the Carnatic concert circuit.

Rajeev began his violin lessons with Shri N.Govindarajan at a very young age. He is a senior disciple of the violin virtuoso, Sangeetha Kalanidhi A.Kanyakumari and has been under able guidance for over two decades. He is an 'A'-grade artiste of the All India Radio and has many accolades to his credit. Rajeev has travelled extensively, both in India and abroad. He has given many violin duet concerts with his Guru, and has accompanied several leading musicians of today. He has also been a part of many jugalbandis and unique musical collaborations.

Apart from being a violinist, Rajeev is also a talented illustrator, who seeks to bring out the beauty of Carnatic music through his visual storytelling as well. He strives to take Carnatic music to the next generation through innovative projects involving illustration and animation. Rajeev also works full time in the entertainment industry as a game designer.

Dr. Sri. Sriram Suryanarayanan(Kanjira)

Dr. Sriram is one of the foremost disciples of Guru Sri. T.S. Nandakumar. Sriram has carved out a niche for himself as an accompanist on Mridangam, Kanjira and Ghatam. He has accompanied prominent artistes including Vidushi A. Kanyakumari, Dr. N.Ramani, Prof. T.N. Krishnan, Dr. Sri. K.J. Yesudas, Sri. T. N. Seshagopalan to name a few. He has been playing Mridangam for professional dance performances and arangetrams conducted by leading dance teachers.

Sriram is an 'A'-Grade artiste at the All India Radio, and has won several music competitions and was also awarded the prestigious Junior Fellowship of music by the Government of India. He has been regularly performing at the All India Radio, Doordarsan and in several leading music organizations as well as television channels all over India and North America. He holds PhD in Chemistry. As a passionate teacher, he has been teaching Mridangam to students in and around the greater Toronto, Canada area for several years.

Chiranjeevi Navneet Aiyer

Chiranjeevi Navneet Aiyer was first introduced to Mridangam under the tutelage of Guru Sikhamani Sri. T. S. Nandakumar. He developed a strong passion towards the art and in the process, learning Ghatam and Kanjira as well. He has accompanied his Guru Sri T.S. Nandakumar in the ThaalaVadhyam performance at the prestigious, Cleveland, Thyagaraja Aradhana festival and percussion ensemble at Maharishi International University, Iowa. Navneet accompanied Vidwan Sri. Rajeev Mukundan on Mridangam in the Grand Violin concert organized by TSNPAC. With Guru's blessings, Navneet has played Mridangam, Kanjira and Ghatam accompanying for number of Vocal, Veena, Keyboard, Harikatha and Namasankeerthanam Concerts in US and India.

Navneet is learning the classical nuances from the western keyboard under Kalaimamani Sri. M.S. Martin. It is an honorable achievement that he has accompanied Sri M.S. Martin in the Carnatic Keyboard concert at Cleveland, Thyagaraja Aradhana festival and the Chennai music festivals. Navneet has accompanied Thavil Vidwan Sri. Sunil Kumar on the keyboard and has given several carnatic keyboard concerts in US.

Navneet learns the classical music from Guru Smt. Subha Srinivasan and has accompanied her in singing and playing keyboard in concerts around NJ. Navneet is also an active Chinmaya Balavihar volunteer where he is a part of the Swaranjali Bhajan team - both singing and instruments. Navneet learned the soprano recorder and the clarinet from the school orchestra. He is also trained in Western piano and has completed Level-4 at The Royal Conservatory of Music. Navneet Contributes substantially to the Chinmaya Summer program and the Carnatic Music Association of North America through dedicated volunteer work.

Navneet Aiyer is a rising junior at Montgomery Township School district. Apart from being an honor student, he is part of high school's Robotics and Engineering clubs. He is also an active member in the high school cross country team.

His passion for the south Indian classical is abundant. Navneet seeks everyone's blessings as he keeps progressing in the musical and academic field.
